

Fat Chance

Sean McDermott is a private detective in New York City, it says so right on his business card. Its an ok job, but it isnt as exciting as most people think, and thats fine by him. He makes it a rule not to get involved in active police cases or in any case where people are likely to get hurt--especially him. So why does the mob suddenly want him dead? Sure its all a mistake, but dead from a mistake is still dead. Taking advice from his friend, the Juke, he starts on a cross country drive to LA (what can I tell you, he has a few phobias, and flying is just one of them), where he figures hell be safe and makes it as far as Mystic Falls, New Mexico before the borrowed Mercedes conks out. Mystic Falls? Think Green Acres--without the sophistication. It should have been easy. All he had to do was lie low and wait for the car to be fixed. A good plan too, if only the local character hadnt turned up missing with him fingered as the prime suspect. Now if he ever wants to get out of this sleepy desert asylum before the mob finds him, hes going to have to find her. Simple? Fat chance.
