

Velocity Girl and Xuan Hu

Mary Woods was a fairly typical teenager, concerned about her weight and intellectual enough to only fit in with the science geeks. After a strange fainting spell, her whole world changed, including herself. Awakening in the hospital with a new, thinner body, she returns to school and begins life anew. As her body develops superhuman abilities, she finds herself drawn into a web of intrigue and dangerous secrets from the past. Some of these secrets not only involve her, but also her best friend from school and her mysterious new mentor, a man with a dark past known as Xuan Hu. Xuan Hu trains her to become Velocity Girl. So her double life begins. In her adventures as Velocity Girl, she struggles against evil masterminds and super-powered alien psychopaths. She also meets others like herself who choose to use their gifts and abilities to make a difference. As Mary Woods, she has to deal with a stepfather who tries too hard, hiding her abilities, and, worst of all, attention from boys.
