

The Light in the Clearing (A Tale of the North Country in the Time of Silas Wright)

Irving Bacheller began writing himself, publishing The Master of Silence in 1892 and Still House of O'Darrow in 1894. Although he was appointed Sunday editor of the New York World in 1898, he soon chose to pursue a full-time career as a fiction writer and two years later gave up his journalist position. Writing novels primarily concerned with early American life in the North Country of New York State, in 1900 his novel Eben Holden, subtitled A Tale of the North Country, proved a major success. Sixteen years later, Bacheller's work The Light in the Clearing was the No.2 best-selling book in America...[http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Irving\_Bacheller]From the authors preface, The Light in the Clearing shone upon many things and mostly upon those which, above all others, have impassioned and perpetuated the Spirit of America and which, just now, seem to me to be worthy of attention. I believe that spirit to be the very candle of the Lord which, in this dark and windy night of time, has flickered so that the souls of the faithful have been afraid. But let us be of good cheer. It is shining brighter as I write and, under God, I believe it shall, by and by, be seen and loved of all men.....To any who may think that they discover portraits in these pages I desire to say that all the characters save only Silas Wright and President Van Buren and Barton Baynes are purely imaginary.
