

Seek A New Dawn

A lot more historical than romance - you will not be disappointed. THE TIMES When the Cornish copper mines close down at the end of the 1870s, Sam Hooper - like many men - sets sail for Australia in order to seek his fortune. But his hopes of taking his love Emily with him are dashed by her father - who doesn't consider Sam good enough for her. Emily is not to be thwarted, however, and when her father dies, she decides to go to Australia and hunt down Sam. On arriving at Kadina, however, Emily hears Sam is married. Emily throws herself into good works - saving prostitutes - and starts to win them over just as she learns Sam isn't married and has done quite well for himself in gold prospecting...
